Why is energy storage important in the Asia-Pacific region?

Date: July 9 - 10, 2024 The Asia-Pacific region plays a pivotal role in the global battle against climate change. Every country in the region has the power to spur on the transition and deploying more energy storage will play a huge part in this.

Is energy storage a necessity?

Planned and currently operational U.S. utility-scale battery capacity totaled over 16 GW at the end of 2023, with another 15 GW in 2024 and around 9 GW now expected in 2025. Energy storage is no longer an aside or a luxury; it is a necessity if we want to reach our global net-zero goals and stay on track.

Why do we need a co-optimized energy storage system?

The need to co-optimize storage with other elements of the electricity system, coupled with uncertain climate change impacts on demand and supply, necessitate advances in analytical tools to reliably and efficiently plan, operate, and regulate power systems of the future.

Are lithium-ion batteries a good choice for energy storage?

Lithium-ion batteries are being widely deployed in vehicles, consumer electronics, and more recently, in electricity storage systems. These batteries have, and will likely continue to have, relatively high costs per kWh of electricity stored, making them unsuitable for long-duration storage that may be needed to support reliable decarbonized grids.
