Are trade restrictions affecting solar PV?

Trade restrictions are expanding, risking slower deployment of solar PV. As trade is critical to provide the diverse materials needed to make solar panels and deliver them to final markets, supply chains are vulnerable to trade policy risks.

Why is the global solar PV product trade important?

The global solar PV product trade plays an important role in facilitating PV product production and utilization and in mitigating climate change. Traded solar cells and modules in 2017 could generate 2325.25 TWh of electricity over their 30-year lifetimes.

Are solar PV products a significant export for China?

Solar PV products are a significant export for China. In 2021, the value of China's solar PV exports was over USD 30 billion, almost 7% of China's trade surplus over the last five years.

Is the solar PV manufacturing sector financially sustainable?

The long-term financial sustainability of the solar PV manufacturing sector is critical for rapid and cost-effective clean energy transitions. The net profitability of the solar PV sector for all supply chain segments has been volatile, resulting in several bankruptcies despite policy support.

Is energy storage (es) underused in China?

Compared with other countries, ES is underused in China to aid in renewable energy integration. The China Energy Storage Alliance estimates that 366.5 megawatts of ES was specifically being applied to renewables integration at the end of 2015 globally, but only 6 percent was in China.

Does China have a stationary energy storage sector?

The global stationary energy storage sector is still quite immature, and China is no exception. Global installed capacity of stationary energy storage was around 3 gigawatts at the end of 2016, a fraction of the nearly 250 gigawatts of solar and 500 gigawatts of installed wind capacity.

Foreign trade energy storage products encompass various technologies and solutions designed for storing energy, including batteries, pumped hydro storage, thermal storage, and supercapacitors.
